Annual Meeting Shows Considerable Progress

Large Meet Community Council

About thirty representatives of the various organizations of the Community Council met at the first Annual Meeting, Thursday evening in the Town Hall.

President T. S. Hughes presided. Minutes of previous general and executive meetings were read by the Secretary, Rev. Ford and much discussion resulted. First question was the citizens committee in connection with the Reserve Army. Mr. Mackenzie gave a comprehensive report of the steps taken up to the present. Officially signed up at present are W. I. Mackenzie, C. A. MacLean R. Hinchliffe and S. Slater. A committee named by the Chair to assist these men comprised D. Brook, H. Willson and A. Scott.

Reports from the various groups were given and resulting out of the Hockey and Skating as given by J. Crellin came the question of a rink supervisor. A very lengthy discussion took place as to the pros and cons and finally resulted in a motion by S. H. Crowther that a supervisor be provided by the Community Council to be responsible for payment thereof, with some concessions from the Town Council.

During the discussion President Hughes suggested that one very worth-while project of the Community Council would be the building of a covered rink with adequate dressing rooms and other facilities necessary in a modern rink. This it was felt would prove a real benefit to the youth, a credit to the Town and a worthy memorial to the men, who had given their lives in World War II.

Satisfactory reports from the music group was given by Mrs. Polley, dramatic by Rev. Ford which group is planning to put on a Play in the New Year. Library by S. H. Crowther.

NEW BRITISH GRINDING MILL

Among the many new machines designed for the farmer in Britain and overseas is a grinding mill developed by a British firm. The mill, which is made of light alloy, is four and a quarter feet high and weighs 200 lbs. It is driven by a 1½ horse power motor or petrol or electric motors can be supplied with the machine. It can grind any grain, and any type of roughage such as straw, hay chaffer, either individually or in combination. It can also be used to break down lime or fertilizers. Pre-cutting plates chop the material as it enters the grinding screen. In conjunction with an enlarged screen area they enable the machine to grind twice as quickly as existing mills of comparable size. Much less power is used.

Picture shows:— Line of mills ready to leave the factory. The mill in the foreground is equipped with 1½ horse power petrol motor. Others have electric motors.

Manufacturers are Lipton Products Ltd. of Woburn Green, Nr. High Wycombe, England.

The Wrong Reason

Advocating the easing of restrictions on immigration of Poles and other nations, in a recent article in the Financial Post, it is stated that the recent entry of 4,000 Poles into Canada is not nearly enough to compensate for the labor lost with the repatriation of German prisoners of war. They go on to state that . . . "if we don't do something about it very soon we may find industry generally falling behind."

But the Post has the wrong answer. True, we lost large numbers of Germans. But in the past year, there has also been an influx into civilian life of almost a million young people from the services. These huge numbers should be able to do something about the large number of vacancies in basic industries. Many of them came from basic industries . . . some will go back. Some who were never before employed in such work will take it on.

And something else is wrong if industry generally falls behind. Does the Post forget that during the war years, with such a huge proportion of the population engaged in non-productive work in the services, and with such a huge proportion of the country's production being used for military purposes . . . which from an economic point of view is useless to a country . . . Canada nevertheless managed to produce far more than she had ever before produced? Does the Post forget that, short of skilled labor as she was, Canada nevertheless amazed the world with her ability to turn out manufactured goods?

Canada does not need more immigrants to plug up the gaps in her industrial front . . . those plugs are here already.

If Canada does need more people for her country . . . and we feel strongly that she does . . . it is to increase the basic strength of the country. It is to round out the thin veil of population stretched across the Dominion. It is to provide a basically sound group of inhabitants, with a cosmopolitan aspect, which may become more self-reliant, as a group, as the years roll on. It is to provide citizens for Canada, citizens who will be Canadians, and not "visiting" members of sects from other countries, who have no interest in the country other than a financial one.

Canada needs more Canadians, but not for the purpose the Financial Post gives.

Unless We Live It

The war of arms was won by meeting face to face on the battlefield and hurling missiles at each other. We sometimes make the mistake of thinking the war of ideas can be won in the same way — by meeting face to face on the debating floor and hurling ideas at each other. That is why, in the General Assembly of the United Nations, debates have been and will continue to be sharp and controversial.

It will not help us to pretend that these differences will not arise, said

President Truman when he opened the Assembly. Nor will it help us to pretend that these differences can ever be settled by argument. Victory in the war of ideas is achieved not by debate but by demonstration.

When we talk about democracy to other nations we are talking about the ability of our people to stick and work together by voluntary agreement. And there is no use talking about that when marriage—our most frequent form of voluntary agreement—is Suggestions for financing the various schemes given by Mr. Colpoys were adopted.

It was felt that the Community Council is striving for the betterment of the Town and district surrounding, and it was regrettable that not more business men were present, as they too would benefit by the success of the different projects.

breaking up at the rate of one divorce in every three years.

When we talk about freedom to other nations we refer to the ability of each and every one of us always to give his best at any moment. And there is no use talking about that when all of us—our whole nation—is paralyzed by strikes for days and weeks at a time. We will lose democracy unless we live it. That, for most of us, does not begin with more debate but with more demonstration—on the living room carpet at home and on the factory floor.

Letters to the Editor

Cluny, Alberta

The Editor,

As a member of the local committee supporting the Dominion-Provincial Youth Physical Training Plan, I visited the girls' class of the P.T. project undertaken for the first time this year in Cluny.

This class under the direction of Ellen Reinhold, a grade XII student of Cluny high school, residing in the territory was very able and efficiently conducted. The session I visited was their fifth class, and I was agreeably surprised that so much progress had been made in so short a time. The benefits of this training from a health standpoint are very valuable.

I was also much impressed by the discipline and control that a high school student, "one of themselves", was able to exercise over her fellow students; a lesson in co-operation that we older people might do well to emulate.

This P. T. Class is open to all young women in the community of not over thirty-five years of age, and I am somewhat surprised that the young women in Cluny District have not taken advantage of this opportunity. The class is made up entirely of students.

VACCINATE SIXTY COWS FOR BANG'S

Dr. S. H. McClelland, Dr. Veterinary Surgery, of Calgary, travelled through out the district on Wednesday with

R. J. Milligan inspecting and vaccinating calves for contagious abortion. Through the day, he vaccinated some sixty calves, ten of which were pure-bred shorthorns.

Dr. McClelland in the course of the day expressed himself as feeling that this measure, which is so productive of results, should be made compulsory. He was also very pleased with the interest shown in the area he covered, and the action being taken.

His trip included most of the country from Carleton Place to west of Lockford.

Miss Hutchings said that their work is preventative only—they do not give treatment. She said that 1/2 of the cost is paid by the Provincial Government and 1/2 by the Board.

Their work consists in inspection of School pupils and pre-school children, sanitary inspection. Public clinics are regularly held where parents bring their children and if suspicion of any trouble, the report is made to the Board. Routine inspections are held for grades 1, 4, 7 and 11 so that each pupil receives a health examination every three years.

Inoculations are given for diphtheria and whooping cough together, resulting in diphtheria being almost wiped out. Scarlet fever inoculations have shown 50% effective—there are five inoculations for S. F. Communicable diseases should be reported without delay.

Miss Hutchings urged the serving of hot soup or cocoa to children taking their lunch to school.

One suggestion made was to the effect that the old regulation regarding trucks with stand-

It was found that seven rinks were ready to start playing as soon as the draws have been made. These will be skipped by the following ladies: Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Gannon, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. May, and Mrs. Watson each player will have two regular games every week with playing being scheduled for Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons and Saturday evenings. The only outside rink entered was from Cheadle and is to be skipped by Mrs. Watheon.

ard bodies, be changed to regulate the wheel base permitted, since this is more positive. A suggested wheel base was 135". It was pointed out in this connection, also, that many of the new cars have longer bodies than do trucks which never-the-less have bodies not in conformity with present regulations. Further study of this matter will be made at the next meeting and the by-law may come up for revision.

It is not certain what action is to be taken with regard to the shippers' streets in town, in view of the lack of cinders, but efforts are being made to secure even a small amount of cinders, since this would help in the.

A report was received from J. J. Petrie, of Calgary, who was commissioned last spring to clear up the titles for town lots still not in the Town's name, saying that not much action had been taken up to the present, but that he expected to get at the matter in the not distant future.

A letter was read to Council that membership fees for the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities had this year been raised to $25.00 in view of higher costs of operating. Since the fee was $15.00 for last year, and $10.00 only the year previously, Council felt that they were not getting value commensurate with the increase, and voted to decline any activity this year.

Dissatisfaction was expressed over the comparison in assessments in many instances, and Council wondered if a more satisfactory basis might not be arrived at. It was moved that in future, the Council shall check with the assessor before he goes around the Town, and check his figures later before using them as the tax basis.

Several complaints were received with regard to frozen and sour milk and the Public Health Officer and the nurse will be asked to see what may be done in this regard. Most complaints, it seems, came from mothers of small children and babies.

Pleasure was expressed over one letter informing the Council that the rates on accident insurance on town firemen had this year gone down.

Application blanks for water and sewer service were checked and it was decided that the secretary should make up forms for each prospective

Bumper Tobacco Crop

This year a record crop of tobacco was harvested in Canada—110,000,000 lbs. Due to the intensive work of Dominion Department of Agriculture plant breeders the improved varieties now grown in the Canadian producing areas make the importation of cigarette and pipe tobacco, except for blending of some brands, unnecessary. All Virginia type cigarettes made in Canada are of local grown leaf.

These pictures show a field of high grade tobacco and workers getting leaf ready for curing and storing.

Alfalfa fed to brood sows during fall and winter will ensure stronger and healthier litters, but in sow management the need for protein balanced feed and for potassium iodide should also be kept in mind. Lack of potassium iodide in the pregnant sow's ration often results in hairless and weak pigs in winter and spring farrowed litters. This condition can be prevented by dissolving one ounce of potassium iodide in one gallon of water and giving each sow one tablespoon of the solution per day.

Relatively little published information was available regarding this feed but that which could be found indicated that rapeseed meal lacked in palatability and under certain conditions it might have a toxic effect on animals to which it was fed. In order to begin to obtain more specific information regarding this feed a preliminary trial was undertaken with recently weaned lambs at the Experimental Station

Midgets are defined as players who have not reached the age of fifteen by December 2. There are three teams in this group, comprising the Canadians, Maple Leafs and Rangers.

The Junior Team has been entered in a league made up of teams from Westland schools. This has many advantages, notable among which are the short trips which have to be made for games, and the heightened interest occasioned by familiarity with other players.

Other schools in the league include Bozaker, Kathryn, Acme and Carleton.

Strathmore's first game of the series will be played in Strathmore on December 12th.

Only one week remains within which competitors in the National Breyer Contest may get in their application forms for judging.

THE PRAIRIE SCHOONER

Here on veritable prairie near Winnipeg, and driving a wagon such as his pioneer ancestors drove is Jimmy Gowler, young dance music enthusiast of the Gateway City who leads the orchestra in the "Prairie Schooner" program, heard on the Trans-Canada radio network Fridays at 9:30 p.m. With him is Mary Koshowski, soprano soloist heard often on the Schooner program. The pioneers who settled the prairies travelled to their wilderness homes in covered wagons, and today, in the Prairie Schooner series, some of their sons and daughters are recalling the great adventure of settlement in the songs they sang, the dances they danced, and the tales they told and lived.
